To whom it may concern:

I, Sharon Vongkham of Passion Stitches have been contacted by Jason Keable to review his new business proposal/idea to provide a dedicated complete web site solution to small businesses, I have reviewed all information in relation to his idea & would consider his proposal/idea to be a product or service that has great potential.

Being a small business owner/manager myself & due to the complexity of the internet & the increasing demand to keep up with technology I could not think of, or know of a better or comparable solution available on the market to allow a small business to obtain a complete web site solution so easily & cost effectively, while at the same time allowing a non-technical user to edit the content & keep the site up to date with minimal impact/cost to the business.

Great Idea !

Sincerely

Sharon Vongkham
